FORTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

DEBATE ON THE BANKRUPTCY BILL IN THE SENATE.

Mr. George's Speech Against the Measure-The Oleomargarine Bill in the House.

WASHINGTON, June 1,-House,-Mr. Weaver ]Is.] rising to a question of privilege, sent to the Clerk's desk and had read an editorial from an Iowa paper declaring that he had betrayed the interests of his constituents by op-posing the oles cargarine bill, inti-mating that the opinions of Armour had their infinite in securing this opposition and a siring that be had obtained his sear to Congress through fraud. All there charges he denounced as untrue. He had been, and s ill was in favor of the electromargarine bill, and was false that he had been infin-nced improperly in his course in regard to that measure. No charge of fraud had been made against him in the contest for his seat, which had been confirmed to him by the House by an almost unanimous vote. He understood that there were not more than six gentlemen on the Republican side who had voted that he was not entitled to the seat.

Mr. Blount [Ga.], from the Commit-tee on Posteffices and Postroads, reported a bill amending the statutes re'a ive to the transmission of lottery advertisements through the mails. House calendar.

Mr. Laffoon [Kv.], from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill for the forfeiture of the land grant to the New Orleans, Baion Rouge and Vicksburg railroad. House catendar. The House then went into commit-tee of the wrole (Mr. Springer [III.] in the chair) on the eleomargarine

The first amendment in order was that offered by Mr. Daniel [Va.] abolishing the tobacco tax and it was reected-52 to 111.

The amendment also offered by Mr. Daniel abelishing the tax on fruit brandy was rejected—$\S$ to 125. Mr. Dunbam [ID.] offered an amendment reducing from 10 cents a pound to 3 cents a pound the tax on oleomargarine.

Then amendments were offered fixing the rate at 4 and 5 cents a pound, ut they were rejected, only, however, after a couple of hours had been con-on motion of Mr. Hatch [Mo.] the amendment offered by Mr. Dunnam was amended so as to fix the rate at 8 cents, and as an amended it was agreed to.

On motion of Senator Dolph the Senate resumed consideration of the Nor hern Pacific land forfeiture bill-Speeches were made by Senators Dolph and George, and at 2 o'clock, Senator George still baving the floor. the matter went over natil to-morrow and the bankruptcy bill was placed before the Senate.

After Senator Hose, by unanimous con ent, had secured some verbal amendments to be bill. Senator George moved to strike out all the sections that provide for involuntary proceedings in bankruptey.

Senator George said he was willing to vote for a bill that would allow an unfortunate debtor to start again in life by a surrender of his property and getting an acquittal. He was not wil-ling to vote for any scheme of involuntary bankruptcy, especially when chara-terized by the barsh proceedinga provide 1 by this bill. The theory of the bill. Mr. George said, seemed to be that every man who became insolvent was either a knave or a fool. That was not a correct theory. Calamities for which they were not responsible sometimes overtook the most efficient and energetic business man, calamities induced by the government, some-times by the agents of the government, the banks. The putting of such men into benkruptcy and taking the management of their business out of their own hands and putting it into the hands of a court was the worst possible thing to do. Senator George are its oil we will oppose to the utmost of gued that the effects of the hill or the be ruinous. He also objected to the bill not permitting a man to give preference among creditors, such as was allowed by the laws of nearly all the States. It often happened that a man's condition, even his hopor, required that he should give a preference.

Senator Hoar believed the bill secured a more favorable consideration for the debter's interest than it was possible for the debtor to secure without the bill. Senator Hoar instanced a number of conditions and rights which the bill secured for the debtor; among these, he stated, that the bill gave the man his freedom. It gave him $500 to put in his pocket; it gave family a mantenance for six months, and it saved his estate from being "gobbled" up by one creditor after another, thus having his business increased by heavy cost. It gave a day laborer a lien for his wages before payment of the other crediture. only thing it did not do, was it did not allow a shylock to say to the debtor "I will get all this property for my-self," without regard to the rights of either the debtor or the other creditors.

Senator George argued in contra-vention of Senator Hoar's points, and in the course of his remarks said he had never known of the administration of a bankrupt estate without everybody being swindled, creditors and debtors alike.

Senator Hoar moved to lay Senator George's amendment on the table. Before the announcement of vote on this motion, it being clear that the result would be strongly against it. Sanator Hoar wished the bill postponed until to morrow. It seemed to im, he said, that the opinion of the Senate was against the fundamental feature of the bill, and if he should of that opinion to-morrow be might move to postpone the bill until December. He did not wish to do that without consultation with his colleagues on the committee reporting the bill. He saked upanimous cin sent that the bill be postponed until Senator Cote objected. The vote on Senstor Hear's motion was year 14, nave 25. So the Secatdeclined to lay Senator George's amendment on the table. The bill then went over until to-morrow.

to morrow.

Senstor Plumb offered a resolution regard to the Pacific Railroad, which was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

A resolution offered by Senator Grorge was at his own engagetion allowed to lie over one day, providing for the recommitted to the Committee on the Judiciary of the bankingster bill, with instructions to so smend it as to provide for voluntary proceed-

Senator Plumb said he would per sonally prefer to have had a bill in some respects more restrictive than the present one, but the bill represented the views of the Committee on Public Lands.

The bill was pessed. Senator Sherman called up the sup-plemental Chinese immigration bill that which explains the meaning of the original bills on ithe same subject passed in 1882 and 1884.

The bill was passed as reported from the committee. Senator Sherman called up the bill to indemnify the Chinese for losses incurred by the riot at Rock Springs, Wy. T. He said he regarded it as good policy, good Christianity and good humanity to reimburse the ininced parties. Senators Cockrell and Mitchell opposed the bill, and Senator Edmunds favored it.

Without action upon the measure, the Senate adjourned.

The Seante.

Senstor Beck, introducing a bill to prohibit members of Cong ess from acting as attorness or employes of railroad companies that hold charters or have had grants from the United States, remarked that there had been much crimination and recrimination in both houses about members of Congress being employed by railroad companies. The bill, he said, was in-tended to see if a remedy could not be provided for the trouble.

Senator Miller called up the bill extending the eight-hour law to letter carriers. He said that the Postoffice Department had ruled that the letter rriess were not entitled to come under the provisions of that law; but Senator Miller raw no reasons why these employes of the government should not be put on an equality with other employes. The bill was passed.

Debate on the bill continued at great length, and a number of smeadments were offered, only to be voted down. The committee finally rose without disposing of the bill. The Speaker appointed Mesers. Blount, Riggs and Bingham as conferees on the postoffice appropriation bill, and the House then adjourned.

Sam Powell have, by their support of the said law, betrayed the trust reposed in them, and so far as they could injured, instead of pro-tected, the people's interest and rendered themselves unworthy of our support, and we pledge ourselves to each other never to support either of them again for any office.

TAPPED THE PIPE.

A Scheme by Which 13,000 Barrels of Petroleum Were Stolen.

Beadford, Pa., June 1.-W. N. George of Duke Center, near here, a prominent organizer of the Knights of Labor, and conspicuous in his attitude against monopolies, was arrested and held to ball yesterday on the charge of systematically robbing the National Transit Pipe Line Company for a period of three years of many thousands barrels of oil. George has our oi'-wells, the contents of which discharge into one tank. Nearth's tank runs one of the Transit Company's three-inch pips lines buried in the ground. This line was tapped, it is alleged, a half-inch pips inserted, and led away to Georg's tank. George sold his oil to a rival company, Tide Water, and, though it was a motter of wonder that the production of his wells was so much larger than those of his neighbors, no one could tell where the exica ini came from until a few days ago, when the owner of the land on which the wells are situated made the discovery that led George's arrest. It is charged that out twelve barrels each day have hus been stalen for torce years, making a total of over 13,000 barre's The

STERN, UNYIELDING RESOLU-TIONS BY THE DEMOCRATS

Of Hardeman County, Who Are Opposed to a Protective Tariff and to the Blair Educational Bili.

ICOURESPONDENCE OF THE APPEAL.

BOLIVAR, TRNN, May 29 - The Democrats of Hardeman county, after appointing delegates to the Gub rna orial convention at Nashville, and the Democrats to select a Democratic candidate for Chancellor at Jackson, une 14, 1886, adopted the following esolutions.

The Democracy of Hardeman c unty convention assembled declare: First - We believe in the outh party organization as the best and only means of inforcing party principles We regret the chronic lack of unity in Democratic party councils at Nash-ville and Was ington, and earnestly desire our cominées for repres-nta-tives in the l'gislature and in con-gress, to favor a party caucus, and abide by and support the action of the majority therein.

Second.—We believe in the lowest measu e of taxation consistent with the public necessities. Whether the method of taxation be direct or in direct, its limit should always be the amount of revenue requisite for such expenditures only as are necessary for government purposes, in the interest of the whole peop'e alike, without favor to any individual, corporation or class. We oppose any and all taxes indirectly imposed, under our tariff laws, for the purpose of pro-tecting or subsidizing any interest whatsoever, believing that any tariff designed for protection makes the central government both a guarantor and insurer to a very small portion of its people at the expense of their neighbors. Its purpose and result is simply a guarantee against loss to various individuals and corporations who voluntarily enter into what they claim would be a losing bus ness without government aid, through taxation of their neighbors; and, also, in an i suring, as well, by the government of a profit to the few people so engaged, taken from the pockets of the many. We desire no development of infant or overgrown invaries, either in our own State or dustries, either in our own State or elsewhere, at the expense of the taxpaye s of the whole country, through the medium of a protective tariff which only aggregates the wealth resul ant therefrom in the hands of the few owners of the interests protected If development is sought through government aid we favor such devel-opment as tends to the distribution of wealth, even though it be alower in reaching us, and less in its aggregate value. Third.-We adhere to the princ'ple of railroad regulation enunciated in all Democratic platforms in this State for m-ny years past. We desire the utmost moderation and fairness, in the exercise of the power, and would welcome the honest and earnest cooperation of the railroad corporations with our Legislature in securing fair legislation to that end, at the same time entering our protest against any surrender of this principle at the die tation of the railroads in combination with the Republican party at our last keep them in, and also requiring the of proxies in any of our conventions, people to keep other expensive fences and instruct our delegation to the Gubernatorial convention in August to advocate the plan of party organization proposed by the State Execu tive Committee to the convention of > Fifth,-While we favor public education, and urge its cause upon our represen atives, State and Federal, we earnestly oppose any and all measures which tend to introduce the strong hand of Federal power into the local and domestic affairs of the States, and especially into the nursery and the school-room, such as the measure knewn as the Blair educational bill, which wears the mask of generosity and assumes to be a gift to the people when in fact it represents so much money taken from them.

We do not approve the mendicant stitude of the States, which propose attitude of the to sell the birth-right of family and local self-government for the pottage mess of Congressional supervision under a measure introduced in the interest of a perpetual national debt and a plu o racy of drones supported by tariff taxation and by coup ns on bonds never desired by the holders to

WONDERFUL TO RELATE.

"FOR FORTY YEARS I have been a victim to CATARRH—three-fourths of the time a sufferer from EXCRUCIATING PAINS ACROSS MY FOREHEAD AND MY NOSTRILS. The discharges were so offensive that I hesitate to mention it, except for the good it may do some other sufferer. I have spent a young fortune from my earnings during my forty years of suffering to obtain relief from the doctors. I have tried patent medicines—every one I could learn of—from the four corners of the earth, with no relief.
And AT LAST (57 years of age) have met with a remedy that has cured me entirely—made me a new man. I weighed 128 pounds, and now weigh 148. I used thirteen bottles of the medicine, and the only regret I have is, that being in the humble walks of life I may not have influence to prevail on all catarrh sufferers to use what has cured me—
